

I am opposed to any relaxation of the FCC rules which would permit unrestrained broadcast ownership by giant corporations. This will likely lead to such corporations having monopolies over not only art and entertainment, but the dissemination of news as well. This is not in the best interest of maintaining a well informed public and will limit their ability to make intelligent choices in how they are governed.

Thanks you. Donald Pearl